Last Day of School Set for Saturday, June 17

At their May meeting the Lincolnville School Committee voted to adjust the calendar to have the last day of school, which is our annual field day, to June 17. We have had Saturday field days in the past and it tends to work well for many of parents who could not otherwise attend this fun event. It also keeps us from running into the next week potentially causing conflicts with other scheduled summer activities. School will start on that day at the regular time, but will dismiss at 11:30 AM after a picnic lunch for all students and volunteers. As always, parent volunteers are most welcome. Look for more information in the coming weeks, or feel free to contact us at 763.3366 to let us know you are interested in giving a helping hand.
